It was also explained that the manager would assist any applicant in filling it out and in answering any questions concerning the old-age insurance program. Since these forms have been made available by many union labor headquarters, offices of business concerns, and other organizations.

The greater part of the requests for statements of earnings, Mr. Overstreet explained, have come from workers who had some doubt that the wages they had earned had been reported by their employers. To all requests the bureau of old-age insurance has replied promptly, and in many cases has been able to locate the missing wage items and credit them to the wage earners' account. In cases where the accounting section of the bureau has not been able to do this, it has referred the inquiry to the board's field office managers who personally interview the employer.

Approximately 4.67 per cent of all the requests received by the bureau of old-age insurance came from the states in this region, according to Mr. Overstreet. These include Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Mississippi, South Carolina and Tennessee. The largest number, about 34 per cent, came from New York state, and the smallest percentage, 2.21, from the Rocky Mountain states.

Mr. Overstreet explained that John J. Carson, director of the bureau of old-age insurance, had announced in June, 1938, that statements of wage credits for 1937 could be obtained for the asking. It was stated at that time that, for the wage earners' convenience, post card inquiry forms had been made available at all social security board field offices. An employee, it was suggested, could obtain one of these forms either by writing to the manager of the office or by a

The Southern Ornamental Iron and Wire Works in Savannah has been in business since 1929, although the founder, Mr. A. H. Morris, has been in this line of business since 1911. They are considered the outstanding concern of its kind.

Mr. A. H. Morris Jr. is always willing to co-operate with Bulloch county and he is unselfishly taking part in this edition of the Times.

They do all kinds of iron and wire work including tree escapes, fences, balconies, gates, railings and all types of iron and wire work for the builders' trade. They have several homes that they did jobs on here, the Bland home, and many others; the Brier home in Vidalia; and they do work all over the section.

This writer congratulates the people on having the Southern Ornamental Iron and Wire Works in Savannah.

THE DAVISON CHEMICAL CORPORATION G. OBER & SONS DIVISION Have Many Friends In Bulloch County

Co-operating in any project or movement that is calculated to be of benefit to Bulloch county and this section, the Davison Chemical Corporation and G. Ober & Sons Division, manufacturers of commercial fertilizers and importers of fertilizer materials and chemicals, are unselfishly taking part in this edition of the Bulloch Times.

Over the south Ober's fertilizers have made hosts of friends and given wonderful results on every crop where they have been applied.

Any farmer that uses Ober's fertilizers one time uses it each year thereafter, because he knows he gets the best results from Ober's. The makers know the fertilizer business thoroughly; all ingredients are tested to give you the utmost in fertilizer. This newspaper is proud of the fact that this famous old brand, Ober's, is sold in Bulloch county.

SAVANNAH MACHINERY & FOUNDRY CO. DECIDED ASSET TO THIS SECTION

Few people in this section realize just what the Savannah Machinery and Foundry Company means to the economic life of this section. Mr. W. L. Mingledeff, the owner, has been engaged in this line of work for over thirty years. He furnishes employment to approximately 125 men. His products are shipped to all sections of the country, thus advertising this section and bringing money from other parts of the country to this community.

The Savannah Machinery and Foundry Company do industrial repairs and machine work of all kinds. They maintain a gray iron and brass foundry in this modern plant.

Recently Mr. Mingledeff invested over $30,000 installing a sash weight foundry for making die cast weights which will run true to size and width. These weights are the only ones manufactured here in the south and they are proud that the Savannah Machinery and Foundry Company was the plant to achieve this distinction.

The Savannah Machinery and Foundry Company have many friends in Bulloch county. They are located at 632 Indian street.

GEORGIA STATE SAVINGS ASSOCIATION DECIDED ASSET TO THIS SECTION

This institution, the largest savings bank in the southeast, has for more than a half century performed two fundamental services to the people of this section—through paying the highest rates of interest on savings consistent with safety, it has encouraged thrift and laid the foundation of many substantial fortunes in Savannah and this section, and by making available to borrowers of integrity money with which to buy homes and business property—it has been a pivotal factor in this section's development.

The Georgia State Savings Association was founded in 1890 and their officers are men of this state and vicinity. They are: Henry Blum, president; J. F. Buckner, first vice-president; J. P. Houlihan, vice-president; S. B. LaFar, secretary and treasurer; and R. E. Snead Jr., assistant secretary.

The Georgia State Savings Association is a member of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation.

They have many friends in Bulloch county made by their fair business dealings and they are unselfishly taking part in this edition of the Times.

This writer congratulates the people on having this institution in their midst.

Bulloch County Schools

Register School News

Fourth Grade
We are studying grasshoppers. We made a frieze on grasshoppers. We are going to get some live ones and put on the science shelf. We have lots of flowers in our room. We made a booklet of leaves. In health we made a chart on how to prevent diseases.

Fifth Grade
The fifth grade had a program one day. We made it up of different things. We first had a story about "The Cumberland Road." We then sang songs. Then we had some boys who blacked their faces and sang two songs. They all enjoyed it very much.

Willie Hazel McLamery.

Tenth Grade
The entire tenth grade were the guests of Mrs. L. J. Holloway and Bill Holloway Monday afternoon for the picture, "Huckleberry Finn." Mrs. Holloway is one of our grade mothers, and we think it is swell.

SARA DAUGHTRY.

Senior Class
The seniors are still studying Macbeth. We find it very interesting, and we can't read it fast because we want to get the fun out of the play. In home economics we are demonstrating foods and we have two new pupils. We are starting to make skirts, slacks and other sport clothes for our senior trip. The T. S. U. Club will meet Wednesday.
